Tunisia
Three Tunisian Chair Umpires banned
The International Tennis Integrity Agency (ITIA) has confirmed that three Tunisian chair umpires have been banned from the sport after being found guilty of match-fixing charges. A green badge chair umpire has been banned for 20 years after being found guilty of 12 charges relating to events between 2017 and 2020. Another green badge chair umpire, and a white badge chair umpire, have been banned for seven years each, after being found guilty of four charges relating to an event in Tunisia in 2020. The charges related to the umpires manipulating scores inputted into their electronic scoring devices, which did not reflect the actual scores on court.

LEGISLATION

Hungary
Hungary makes moves towards liberalising remote gambling sector
The Hungarian government informed the European Commission on 3 February 2022 of its intention to end the current, fully state-owned monopoly of the public gaming operator to organize remote gambling and liberalize the remote gambling sector. According to the Draft Laws communicated to the Commission and laid before the Hungarian Parliament, economic operators established in the European Economic Area (EEA) will be able to organize remote gambling on the basis of a licence issued by the Hungarian regulator. The Draft Laws are expected to go into effect on January 1, 2023.

BETTING

China
Chinese takeout
During the pandemic, Bet365's presence in the Chinese market may have grown to include over 12,000 domain names. IP addresses registered in Australia but located offshore, possibly in Hong Kong, have been a critical component of its operation. In recent years, the Chinese government has launched a major crackdown on illegal gambling, particularly the use of overseas services. According to a report compiled by the Asian Racing Federation, approximately 110,000 people were arrested for illegal gambling in 2020 alone.

MATCH FIXING

Nigeria
Nigerian football team have gone viral for ‘match fixing’ in a cup final
In a cup final penalty shootout, a Nigerian football squad appears to have been exposed for match-fixing. Since neither team was able to score in regulation time, the Ogun State FA Cup final in 2022 was decided on penalties. And the shootout was where things really began to become dodgy as for one kick the opposing goalkeeper did not move a muscle.
