

INTERPOL Global Biosecurity Conference, 3 – 5 November 2026 Abstract Submission Form

Please complete and return this Abstract Submission Form to globalbioconference@interpol.int by 22 May 2026.

Details of Presenting Author:

Title:	First name:	Surname:
Organisation/Agency:
Department:
Country:
Telephone number, including country code:
E-mail address:

Details of the Secondary Author (if applicable):

Title:	First name:	Surname:
Organization/Company:
Department:

Presenter Biography (100 words maximum):

--

Presentation Abstract:

Your abstract has to fall under one session and must address one or several objectives listed in the call for abstract (pages 4-5). If you want to cover more than one session theme, please provide one abstracts per session theme.

Please tick the box corresponding to the session you are applying for (one option only):

- Global biological threat landscape
- Indicators and early-warning for biological threats
- Health and Law Enforcement coordination when responding to a biological incident
- Forensic examination of bio-contaminated evidence
- Biosecurity at borders
- Science, technology, and innovation: emerging challenges and dual-use risks to biosecurity
- Science, technology, and innovation: opportunities for law enforcement
- Moving forward legal, policy, and information-sharing enablers for biosecurity

Title of the presentation:

Abstract (200 words maximum):